Poultry and game feeders awarded at the 2024 Lépine Competition EVENA awarded at the 2024 Lépine Competition for its poultry and game feeders

EVENA, a French company specializing in solutions for wildlife and biodiversity, is proud to announce that its poultry and game feeders have been awarded at the 2024 Lépine Competition.

Thanks to their innovative design, these feeders guarantee optimal feeding while limiting waste and access to pests. Combining robustness, ergonomics and durability, they meet the needs of individuals and enthusiasts concerned about animal welfare and efficient feed management.
